DAYS

AI and Beyond: Careers, Research, and What's Next in Computer Science

Thursday, Oct. 22, 1-5 p.m.

Join the FSU Department of Computer Science for an afternoon of events exploring what the spread of AI means for careers and research in the field and how the university is adapting to prepare students and the industry to meet the challenges ahead.

SCHEDULE

Love Building, Room 101

1-1:15 p.m. Welcome and Introduction. A brief welcome and introduction to the FSU Department of Computer Science, CS opportunities at FSU, and the afternoon's activities.

1:15-2 p.m. Undergraduate Panel: AI, Careers and Opportunities. A student-focused discussion on how AI is changing computer science, future career paths, internships, and undergraduate research opportunities. Students will also have opportunities to ask questions.

2-3 p.m. Faculty Research Highlights. Faculty members will give short, 3-5-minute talks introducing exciting research problems, current projects, and opportunities for students to get involved.

Love Building Room 353 and locations throughout the Love Building

3-5 p.m. FSU Computer Science Open House and Research Showcase. Explore computer science research at your own pace. Visit research labs, see posters and demonstrations, meet faculty and graduate students, and learn more about ongoing projects and research groups.
